Introduction

The purpose of these Regulations is to establish the rules of coexistence, participation, and academic integrity within the "Catecumen" digital platform, operated by the International Center for Distance Catechesis (CICADI/ICDC). By registering and accessing the platform, the User agrees to fully comply with these provisions.

Chapter I: General Rules of Conduct and Coexistence

The "Catecumen" platform is a space dedicated to formation, learning, and spiritual reflection. Therefore, ethical and respectful behavior is required at all times.

- Mutual Respect: Users must address teachers, tutors, administrators, and peers with respect and charity. Insults, mockery, discrimination, or offensive language will not be tolerated.
- Purpose of the Space: The platform must be used exclusively for educational purposes related to catechesis and the courses taught.
- Prohibition of Proselytism and Spam: It is strictly forbidden to use the platform to spread commercial advertising, chain messages (spam), political propaganda, or proselytism unrelated to the purposes of CICADI/ICDC.
- Privacy of Third Parties: The user must not share personal information, photographs, or contact details of other community members without their express consent.

Chapter II: Participation in Forums and Virtual Classrooms

Forums and discussion spaces are fundamental tools for collaborative learning.

- Constructive Contributions: Interventions must be clear, concise, and add value to the topic of discussion.

- Digital Courtesy (Netiquette): The use of all caps should be avoided (as in the digital environment it is equivalent to shouting), as well as the overuse of emoticons or formatting that makes reading difficult.
- Sources and References: When citing third-party information, the original source must be mentioned to respect copyright and promote academic rigor.

Chapter III: Academic Integrity

CICADI/ICDC values the intellectual honesty and personal effort of each student.

- Prohibition of Plagiarism: Presenting third-party work, reflections, or assignments as one's own constitutes a serious offense.
- Assessments: During quizzes or exams, the user must complete them individually, without copying answers from others or sharing their own.
- Impersonation: The user must access the platform and carry out the educational activities themselves. Lending the account for a third party to take the courses on their behalf will result in immediate termination.

Chapter IV: Use of Educational Material

Access to Catecumen's resources is an exclusive privilege for enrolled or registered students.

- Personal Use: Texts, videos, infographics, and audios are intended solely for the user's personal learning.
- Prohibition of Distribution: Massive downloading, screen recording, reproduction, sale, or unauthorized distribution of the material hosted on the platform on other social networks, websites, or messaging platforms is prohibited.

Chapter V: Sanctions and Disciplinary Measures

Failure to comply with these regulations will empower the Catecumen administration to apply disciplinary measures, depending on the severity of the offense:

- Private Warning: Formal notice via email reminding the user of the violated rule and requesting a change in attitude.
- Temporary Suspension: Blocking access to participation forums or the entire platform for a defined period (e.g., 7 to 30 days).
- Permanent Expulsion: Permanent expulsion from the platform, account cancellation, and loss of academic progress or ongoing certifications, without the right to a refund (if applicable). This is reserved for serious offenses such as repeated plagiarism, harassment of other users, or illegal distribution of material.

Chapter VI: Reporting Violations

If a user is the victim of a violation of these regulations or detects inappropriate behavior by another community member, they have the responsibility to report it confidentially to the administration team via email at info@catecumen.com, attaching, if possible, screenshots or evidence of the situation.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE — ADDITIONAL CLAUSE

12. Software License and Ownership of the Code (Proprietary Software)

The “Catecumen” digital platform is proprietary computer software owned by the International Center for Distance Catechesis (CICADI/ICDC). The software, its source and object code, architecture, design, user interfaces, database structures and schemas, texts, graphic and audiovisual elements, and any other component of the platform are protected by applicable copyright and intellectual and industrial property law.

Copyright © 2026 CICADI/ICDC. All rights reserved. This software is NOT open source and is not distributed, published or licensed under any free or open-source software license. Nothing in these Terms shall be construed as a grant of rights over the code.

Access to the platform grants the User only a limited, personal, revocable, non-exclusive and non-transferable right to use the service, and conveys no ownership of or license to the software or its code. In particular, without the prior written authorization of CICADI/ICDC, it is expressly forbidden to:

- Copy, clone, reproduce, bulk-download or store the code or structure of the platform, in whole or in part.
- Decompile, disassemble, reverse-engineer or otherwise attempt to derive the source code by any means.
- Modify, adapt, translate or create derivative works based on the software.
- Redistribute, publish, sublicense, rent, sell, assign or make the software or any part of it available to third parties.
- Remove or alter any copyright notices, trademarks or other ownership indications.

The fact that, by its technical nature, part of the code executed in the browser (client side) is visible or downloadable does not constitute publication of the code nor a waiver of any right: such code remains protected by copyright, and its reuse, copying or analysis for reproduction purposes is equally prohibited.

The names “Catecumen” and “CICADI/ICDC”, their logos and distinctive signs are protected trademarks and elements of their respective owners and may not be used without authorization. Breach of this clause entitles CICADI/ICDC to immediately suspend or cancel the User’s access and to pursue all applicable legal actions, civil and criminal, as well as to claim damages.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE — ADDITIONAL CLAUSE

13. Access to Audiovisual Content: Term, Blocking and Prohibition of Download

The videos and other audiovisual materials of the platform are protected content (see Clause 12) and are made available to the User through a strictly personal, temporary, revocable and non-transferable right of access, subject to the following term and blocking conditions, which the User accepts by using the service.

a) Term (72 hours). Access to each video remains available for a maximum of 72 (seventy-two) hours counted from the User's first access to that video. The platform informs the User of this limit and of the remaining time when opening the content. Once the term has elapsed, access to the video is automatically closed.

b) Blocking upon passing. Regardless of the foregoing term, access to a video is automatically closed when the User passes the corresponding evaluation with the required minimum score of 8 (eight). If the User does not pass the evaluation, access is governed solely by the 72-hour term set out above.

c) Reopening. Once access is closed —whether by the elapse of the term or by passing— a User wishing to view the video again must request a new opening from the platform's administration, which may be authorized for a further period of up to 72 hours. The administration may approve or deny such requests at its discretion.

d) Prohibition of download and copying. Without the prior written authorization of CICADI/ICDC, it is expressly PROHIBITED to:

- Download, copy, record or capture (including screen recording or screenshots) the videos and audiovisual content, in whole or in part.
- Extract, store, transmit, share, publish or redistribute such content by any unauthorized means.
- Circumvent, disable or tamper with the technical protection, access-control or watermarking measures.

e) Download for offline use. Where the platform offers a download-for-offline feature, it constitutes a strictly personal use license: the copy is stored encrypted, is bound to the User's account, is subject to limits and to the same term and blocking conditions, and transfers no ownership whatsoever nor authorizes its extraction, copying or redistribution by means other than the platform itself.

f) Identification, logging and consequences. Access to the content is personal and non-transferable and is logged; content may display a User identification mark (watermark) and accesses, downloads and playbacks may be monitored for security and copyright-protection purposes. Breach of this clause entitles CICADI/ICDC to immediately suspend or cancel the User's access, without right to a refund, and to pursue all applicable legal actions, civil and criminal, as well as to claim damages.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE — ADDITIONAL CLAUSES

14. Data Processing for Security and Content Protection

As a complement to the Privacy Notice and for the purposes of security and copyright protection, in addition to the data described therein the platform collects and processes: device identifier(s); logs of access, of download attempts and completed downloads, and of content playback; language and device type; and the date and time of such actions.

During playback, audiovisual content may display a watermark with the User's name and/or registration number, in order to identify the source of any unauthorized copies or distribution.

Such data is processed for the additional purposes of: ensuring platform security, preventing fraud and unauthorized access, enforcing these Terms, and protecting copyright and intellectual property rights (detection and deterrence of unauthorized copying or redistribution). It is retained for as long as necessary for those purposes and in accordance with the Privacy Notice, and the User may exercise their data rights as set out therein.

15. Participation of Minors and Parental Consent

Registration and account ownership are reserved for adults. Where the formation is intended for a minor (for example, in preparation for First Communion or Confirmation), registration and use of the platform must be carried out by the minor's parent or legal guardian, who acts on the minor's behalf and under their responsibility.

When enrolling a minor, the parent or guardian represents that they hold parental authority or guardianship and gives their consent to the processing of the minor's data and to the minor's participation in the formation, including the display of the identification watermark during playback of the content.

The platform does not knowingly collect data from minors without the consent of the person holding parental authority or guardianship. Minors' data receives reinforced protection and is processed only for the purposes of the formation and in accordance with the Privacy Notice. The parent or guardian may exercise the applicable rights over the minor's data at any time.

16. Artificial Intelligence Assistant and Nature of the Service

a) Nature of the service. Catecumen is a distance formation and catechesis platform. The platform does not administer or confer the sacraments, which are celebrated by the Catholic Church through its ministers in accordance with canon law. Use of the platform does not replace the guidance of the catechist or the process of the corresponding parish or diocese, with whom the User must coordinate the reception of the sacraments.

b) AI assistant. The platform may offer a query assistant based on artificial intelligence. Its answers are merely indicative and a study aid, may contain errors or inaccuracies, and do not constitute the official Magisterium of the Church or doctrinal, legal or professional advice. The User must verify the information with their catechist and with the official sources of the Church. Queries are processed through an external technology provider and are subject to usage limits. CICADI/ICDC is not responsible for decisions made solely on the basis of such answers.

17. Formation Certificates, Scholarships and Payments

a) Certificates. Issuance of a certificate is conditional upon the User completing the requirements of the relevant formation. The certificate includes a serial number and a verification code (QR) to confirm its authenticity, is valid for 6 (six) months, and may be revoked in case of error, fraud or breach of these Terms. The certificate attests to the formation completed and does not constitute a sacramental or canonical act nor does it replace the Church's records.

b) Scholarships. Scholarships and aid (for example, the solidarity or hope scholarship) are granted based on the information provided by the User, who represents that it is truthful. Detection of false statements entitles CICADI/ICDC to revoke the scholarship, demand the corresponding payment and suspend access.

c) Payments. Payments are processed through an external provider (Stripe); the platform does not store card data. Prices may be adjusted by country (purchasing power parity). Requests for a tax receipt (for example, RFC) and refund conditions will be handled in accordance with applicable regulations and with the information provided at the time of payment.
